RESPONSE TO NOTICE TO COMPLY WITH SEQUENCE REQUIREMENTS

Applicant received the attached Notice to Comply letter, which was mailed on 03/22/2004. The Notice alleges that Applicant failed to provide a statement according to 37 CFR § 1.821(f), which states that the paper sequence listing and the computer readable format of the sequence listing contain identical material. Applicant respectfully traverses that allegation and refers to the first page, paragraph 0003 of the specification of the above captioned patent application, which clearly states:

“ A paper copy of the sequence listing and a computer readable form of the same sequence listing are appended below and herein incorporated by reference. The information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing, according to 37 C.F.R. 1.821 (f).”

To facilitate and expedite the issuance of claims in this case, Applicant has submitted herewith a copy of the first page of the specification of the above captioned case. Applicant expects this submission to suffice to address the Notice to Comply and the requirements under 37 CFR § 1.821(f). If there are any other issues regarding this matter, please contact the undersigned Agent.

Respectfully submitted,
